

Why Judge?

A fascinating letter from the Rebbe with invaluable lessons about ahavas Yisroel:

MENACHEM M. SCHNEIDERSON
Lubavitch
179 Eastern Parkway
Brooklyn, N.Y. 11235
488-9250

הבדק פנורל פורטונטנטן
האנטיפיזם

By the Grace of G-d
Rosh Chodesh Nissan,
5742. Brooklyn, N.Y.

Boston, Mass., 1816?

Greeting and Blessings

I received your letter of the 17th of Adar, in which you write about the way the Chabad House in your city is conducted, and mentioned some of the Chabad people you like and others with whom you are not impressed, etc.

Judging by your writing, I assume you know of the saying of our Sages that one should not be hasty in judgment, and if a judgment is made, it should be made on the scale of merit. If you will talk to those whom you like, they will surely help you to dispel any suspicions in regard to those with whom you are not satisfied.

I would also strongly recommend that you study carefully Chapter Lev (32) of the Tanya, which is also available in English translation.

wishing you a Kosher, joyous and inspiring
Pesach and

With blessing W. Schneerson

P. 3.

Rabbi Adin Steinsaltz belongs to the Chabad movement in Jerusalem

