As the Rebbe approached the amud, he indicated
that after Maariv there would be a sicha.

MAARIV

Concluding the final kaddish.

After Maariv, the Rebbe ascended
to the shtender and recited a sicha
about the Rebbetzin and the lessons
we should take from her life.

At the conclusion of the sicha, the Rebbe makes his way to the “dollars shtender” for the distribution of Kovetz Chof-Beis Shevat. Enclosed with the kovetz is a five dollar bill to be used for tzedakah (chamesh—five—being the acronym of the Rebbetzin’s name), and a piece of lekach.

Chassidim from all over the world came to be with the Rebbe on Chof-Beis Shevat. That night the Rebbe distributed the kovetz for over five hours concluding at 12:30 a.m.
