The chozer Reb Yoel Kahan stands in his spot to the Rebbe's right.

Children are an integral part of the farbrengen as well.

A cameraman sits atop a platform, capturing the farbrengen for live television and for posterity. At this farbrengen the Rebbe spoke about the national issue of “A Moment of Silence” and education in America.

Many dignitaries and officials are in attendance. The Rebbe thanked the United States government for their help in the Frierdiker Rebbe's miraculous escape from war-torn Europe in 5700.

At the conclusion of the farbrengen, the Rebbe repeated the story how at the moment of Friediker Rebbe's liberation in Kostrama, Chassidim broke out into a dance, singing (while telling the story, the Rebbe himself began the song), "Nyet, nyet, nikavo..."
